At the recent CFUN03 I had the opportunity to meet Samuel Neff, of Team Macromedia fame. I'm always amazed at Sam's responsiveness to the ColdFusion forums users, as well as his extraordinary range and depth of knowledge in both ColdFusion and Java.

I highly recommend reading Sam's Blog at www.rewindlife.com. Case in point, take a look at this script for a Java alternative for CFFILE that can be implemented in CFSCRIPT.

On a related note, another valuable resource is Aaron Johnson's blog. Aaron works for Mind's Eye, and his posts are frequent and insightful. Here is Aaron's version of Sam's code, which has been shortened considerably while making use of the `init()` method.
