In April of 2000 I completed two years in the Nelson and Turrigiano Neuroscience Lab at Brandeis University. Before moving on my new career at Allaire, and now at Macromedia to work with the ColdFusion Application Server, I spent some time in southeastern Germany (Bamberg, Würzburg, and Rothenburg oder Tauber) while visiting my old friend, Isabel Rodriguez. While still in Boston, my friends from Brandeis helped me down a few beers before my flight to commemorate my departure from the lab. If you'd like large images, please add a comment.
